

This is in regards to Indiana's telephone privacy law. Prior to its creation we were receiving telemarketer calls on the average of one every 10-15 minutes every night starting around 6:00 p.m. and sometimes as late as 9:30 p.m. They would always show up on the caller ID as "unavailable" and it got to the point where the caller would be rude and if you told them you were not interested they would argue with you on the phone. Since Indiana's law took effect we can now eat dinner in peace and other than an occational wrong number we are not bothered. Please leave Indiana's law intact! Thank-you.
